Social networks and blogs

Policy statement

Tiddlywinks recognises that some employees may use the Internet for personal purposes and may participate in social networking on sites such as Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and My Space. Employees must ensure they do not breach the law or disclose any confidential information about the setting, children, or families.

This policy outlines the setting's approach to social networking and the use of blogs. It details the ground rules for employees, who should ensure that the content of their blogs/social networking sites does not bring the setting into disrepute or breach their obligations under the setting's Code of Conduct.

This policy applies to all setting employees, volunteers, and students.

Definitions

The term 'blog' is short for 'web log'. A blog is an online diary detailing personal insights and experiences. This is shared with an online audience.

A social network site is a website, which allows individuals to construct a public or semi-public online profile, and to connect with others who share similar interests and views.

Ground rules for employees

Employees must not access personal blogs/social networking sites on work premises or use the setting's internet systems or email address for their own use, without prior agreement or in accordance with the setting's policy.

The setting does not condone employees writing about their work on social networking sites or web pages and asks them not to do so. If employees choose to do so, they are expected to follow the rules below.

Staff must not:

- Disclose any information that is confidential to the setting or any third party or disclose personal data or information about any individual child, colleague, or service user, which could be in breach of the Data Protection Act.

- Disclose the name of the setting or allow it to be identified by any details at all. This includes posting photos of children and young people, the premises, or events with work colleagues.
- Link their own blogs/personal web pages to the setting's website.
- Make defamatory remarks about the setting, colleagues, or service users.
- Misrepresent the setting by posting false or inaccurate statements.

Staff should not:

- Give their personal email details to children and parents who use the setting.
- Send social networking site 'friend requests' to, or accept them from, children or parents who use the settings.

Failure to adhere to the rules and guidelines in this policy may be considered misconduct and could lead to disciplinary and/or criminal investigations.
